Become a Refuge for New York Disorderlies and Crooks.

HE NEVER SAW SO MUCH INIQUITY.

Wide Open Sundays a Scanda for the So-Called Reform

Administration.

Rev. John L. Scudder, of the Jersey City Tabernacie, preached last night on vice in Jersey City. He said:

This town is suffering from an epi demic of vice. Part of this iniquity comes from the other side of the Hudson and part is indigenous. Recent moral earthquakes in New York have caused an emigration of shady characters, and Jersey City, being conveniently near at hand, has become a refuge and hunting ground for disorderlies and crooks. At present the social evil is unusually glaring and defiant. Solicitation upon the street is a common occurrence and a number of saloons are blossoming out into low-lived concert halls, where women sing ribald songs and young men are led astray. These infamous resorts make one feel as if Coney Island had moved over to the lower portion of Jersey City. These dens are feeders of disorderly houses and have the impudence to flaunt the names of their female dancers and singers upon the sidewalk.

"Never have I seen such undisguised and self-advertising nuisances in this city before. These sinks of iniquity have become common talk. Everybody sees them and understands their bustness. I attribute their recent efflorescence to the present discomfiture of vicious characters in New York City. Here, apparently, they can ply their trade without fear of molestation, Under the peculiar circumstances across the river this city has become a sort of ors and performers to 'move or own. She has no occasion to open her
